On November 16 and December 6, Marilyn Buck, Linda Evans and Laura Whitehorn, three women political prisoners and defendants in the Resistance Conspiracy Case will be sentenced for acts of resistance against U.S. government policies. They have pleaded guilty to conspiracy and malicious damage against U.S. government property (the bombing of the Capitol Building following the 1983 U.S. invasion of Grenada.)

These women have spent the last 20 years in social movements to end U.S. imperialism, racism, sexism and homophobia. They have in past trials received the most unfair and outrageous treatment by the courts — Marilyn Buck is serving a 70 year sentence, Linda Evans is serving 35 years and Laura Whitehorn has been held almost four years in "preventive detention." Since they were brought to the D.C. Jail in 1988, they have actively reached out to our movements and shown their solidarity with all of our demonstrations and activities. Now it is time for us to support them. Your presence in court is essential to support these three women and to demand the minimum and most lenient sentence possible for Laura, Linda and Marilyn.

Resistance is not a crime!
Come to court on Nov. 16 and Dec. 6.
